SAHANA SYSTEM LIMITED SECURES LANDMARK CONTRACT WITH MINISTRY OF INFORMATION AND BROADCASTING, CENTRAL GOVERNMENT REVOLUTIONIZING DIGITAL COMMUNICATION IN INDIA FOR NEW MEDIA WING

Ahmedabad, March 6, 2025 | M/s Sahana System Limited (NSE: SAHANA), In a landmark development poised to reshape the digital communication landscape of India, Sahana a technology solutions provider renowned for its innovative prowess, has been awarded a prestigious contract by the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting, Government of India. This strategic partnership will see Sahana spearhead the design, development, implementation and maintenance of a cutting-edge integrated dashboard for the New Media Wing, the nation's central hub for digital communication. Awarded through a rigorous competitive bidding process on the Government e-Marketplace (GeM), this landmark contract is valued at ₹160 million.

This ambitious project signifies a major leap forward in empowering the New Media Wing to effectively engage with citizens in the digital age. Sahana state-of-the-art dashboard will serve as a centralized command center, seamlessly integrating diverse data streams and providing real-time insights to facilitate agile decision-making and optimize communication strategies. By harnessing the power of advanced analytics and intuitive visualizations, the New Media Wing will be equipped to monitor trends, analyze public sentiment, and disseminate information with unprecedented speed and accuracy.

This contract win marks a significant achievement for Sahana, solidifying its position as a trusted technology partner for government organizations and underscoring the Company's unwavering commitment to delivering innovative and impactful solutions that address critical national imperatives.

Key Highlights of the Project:

- Modernizing Information Dissemination: The project will equip the New Media Wing with a cutting-edge dashboard to centralize information flows, streamline communication channels, and enhance public engagement through a dynamic and interactive platform.
- Data-Driven Decision Making: The dashboard will provide real-time insights and sophisticated analytics, empowering the New Media Wing to make informed decisions based on data-driven intelligence and optimize communication strategies.
- Strengthening Public Trust: By fostering efficient and effective government communication, this project will contribute significantly to building stronger trust and transparency between the government and its citizenry.

Sahana team of highly skilled engineers and technology experts will work in close collaboration with the New Media Wing throughout the project lifecycle, ensuring seamless integration, knowledge transfer, and ongoing support to maximize the value and impact of the integrated dashboard.

"This contract win is a testament to the unwavering dedication and innovative spirit of our team. We are deeply honored to contribute to the modernization of India's digital communication landscape and our expertise in cutting-edge technologies, combined with our deep understanding of the government sector, will enable us to deliver a solution that not only surpasses the expectations of the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting but also sets a new benchmark for excellence in government technology." said Mr. Pratik Kakadia, Managing Director of Sahana System Limited."
